

2023 a2 National Symposium, Baltimore, Maryland

Video Production Release | a2 Collective Coordinating Center*

Thank you for your participation in the a2 National Symposium on March 8, 2023. The symposium will be recorded and video and photographs may be posted online for future viewing. By signing below, you grant the organizers permission to include your image, presentation, interview, or other digital material in the posted content.

AUTHORIZATION

I, _____, authorize the a2 Collective Coordinating Center (CC) to record and/or broadcast presentations, interviews, films, recordings, or photographs of me taken in connection with the a2 National Symposium on March 8, 2023. The recordings and photographs may be used by the CC for the development, promotion, broadcast, and distribution of content in any medium of science, health, or educational programming. The CC is entitled to edit, copy, adapt, or translate my contribution and authorize others to do so in connection with other projects.

Date

Printed Name

Signature

The a2 Collective represents the Artificial Intelligence and Technology Collaboratories (AITC) for Aging Research program funded by the National Institute on Aging (NIA), part of the National Institutes of Health. The a2 Collective comprises three AITCs centered at Johns Hopkins University (JH AITC), the University of Massachusetts Amherst (MassAITC), and the University of Pennsylvania (PennAITech) and the a2 Collective Coordinating Center managed by Rose Li & Associates, Inc (RLA).*